YOUR SOFTWARE. OUR SITE. IT’S A BEAUTIFUL THING.

Put your software front and center for the people who need it the most when you register to be a part of Honeywell’s marketplace. Customers working in all kinds of industries visit our site in search of the latest apps and solutions that help them run their businesses more efficiently.

All that and a bag of microchips
Marketplace.honeywell.com is destined to be the first place customers around the world go to find the latest apps and software solutions to help them increase productivity and drive overall profitability. If you’re not part of the marketplace, customers may miss your brilliant offering.

Multiple industries. Endless possibilities.
From retail to travel and logistics to warehousing and distribution to field services, customers are looking for apps and software that help them work smarter. If you’ve got a solution, register today. If you’ve got an idea for an app or a program, here’s the incentive to develop it and get it on our site.

Our global visitors are hungry for innovative apps that boost efficiency.

As easy as Ctrl+Alt+Del
We’ve simplified the process for you to get your software on our site. That way, you can get in front of a global audience faster.

1. If you’ve got a cool app, submit it. We’ll review, and if we find it beneficial for our customers, we’ll publish it on our store for our global audience to view and download.

2. If you’ve got an idea, but aren’t sure where to go with it, take advantage of our developer resources on the marketplace.

Visit marketplace.honeywell.com/developers/register to start developing today!
or simply visit marketplace.honeywell.com to check it out!